

Dear Gulfisha Fatima,

Deep learnings about life and the injustices of society echo in your voice. As a young woman who has endured over four years behind bars, suffering indignities both on your identity and person, you have stood firm and tall. Your strength and resilience remind us of the spirit of resistance that cannot be silenced.

Your words about feeling like you're climbing endless steps without reaching a destination resonate deeply. But even in this difficult climb, please know that every step you take, every day you endure, brings you closer to a place of justice. The journey may seem long, but your strength shines through each step, inspiring those of us who walk beside you in spirit.

With unwavering solidarity,
